About This Game

Hundreds of years ago, several worlds were connected to each other. Peace flourished until a war broke out, which resulted in the worlds being isolated from each other as punishment. Now, a chance to travel again has been given by the mysterious Prometheia to two people. Sol and Luna come from different worlds but have the same opportunity: help Prometheia and their races will be free to explore the universe again. Fail, and their people will be isolated forever.
